Director's Column by Maria Norton

As I am writing this, the last bits of snow from the October nor'easter are still clinging to the many broken branches of trees all over my yard. I can hear the sound of my husband with the rented chainsaw buzzing his way through the tangled mess. My only hope is that as you are reading this . . . there is no snow or ice on the ground or in the forecast. A girl can hope . . . right?

I do have lots of news to share — the last few staff members working at the temporary storefront have moved back into the Library and, more importantly, the South Street entrance is open once again. I want to thank Jim Mongey of the Dublin Pub for being a wonderful landlord.

The new book collection was moved back into the main circulation room over the course of an evening, with some of you standing by patiently, waiting to be let back in to your favorite browsing spot. The Circulation Department staff are looking forward to seeing you again, so come right in!

The 1917 wing is still under reconstruction but nearly complete. Once complete we will have the archives moved back from storage, move the reference collection out of the basement and reopen the large study room, computer training lab and meeting room. The archives move will necessitate tying up the meeting room for a few weeks while the History Center staff unpack and shelve everything in its proper place. Once completed, we will be able to take meeting room reservations again.

By now you have all had a chance to use our new Integrated Library System (ILS) POLARIS. Our staff has been diligently learning the new system as well, if you are in need of any help please don't hesitate to call our reference librarians on their direct line 973–538–2592.

Some programs to take note of — my Book Club is held on the second Thursday of the month. We will be discussing Garth Stein's The Art of Racing in the Rain, Julia Stuart's The Tower, The Zoo and the Tortoise, Margaret Dilloway's How to be an American Housewife and Rebecca Skloot's The Immortal Life of Henrietta Lacks. Come join us for a fun, lively and relaxed morning of book talking; you are welcome anytime!

On February 26, Kate Gallison (author Irene Fleming) will present a program on silent films and on March 29, Mary Walton will discuss Alice Paul.

Have you checked our website for ideas on books to read and films to see during these cold winter days? Check out the menu bar under the Library picture for Books or Media; we change the content monthly so there is always something new to ponder.

Stay warm, stay connected at the Library!

President's Message

by Norma Mortimer

The book sales held at 88 South Street in Morristown, across from our Library for the last few months were successful. Meaning, we made money all of which goes back to our Library. As the cliché goes, it was a good run, particularly since we picked up a number of new customers. "I didn't know the Library held sales for donated used books" was a common comment. That corner store front made us visible, catching many passing by, particularly during lunch hours. We hope they will stay with us as we temporarily regroup in the Meeting Room at the Library and later in our new Bookworm Room.

As I write this message, the Friends are reorganizing and organizing the remaining books plus preparing for "new" ones, still using those orange crates which have a style of their own. (I almost think I'll miss them.) These will be rolled into the Meeting Room just for the sales and then rolled back into the netherworld beginning in November on Tuesdays, 10 AM to 2 PM, the same hours we used during our summer openings. While it will be a while until we are back in the Bookworm Room, the Friends are grateful for this weekly opportunity to serve you, the reading public. So often we hear that you buy these donated used books, read them, and donate them back to us for resale. We thank you.

On Sunday, September 17, the Friends of the Morristown and Morris Township Library held their annual bookmark contest awards ceremony. The winners, selected from a group of sixty-six, were presented with gift certificates and library tote bags. Their entries are on display in the Children's Room. Colorful reproductions of the first place bookmarks are free to library patrons.

by Mary Lynn Becza, Head of Reference

The staff of the Morristown & Morris Township Library helps many patrons every day, providing useful information and assistance in a safe and pleasant atmosphere. It is not every day however, that Library staff has the experience of assisting patrons during a natural disaster. In 2011 we had not one but two catastrophic storms in Morris County which sent many area residents to the library in search of crisis aid.

Hurricane Irene on August 28, 2011 and the historically unprecedented snowstorm just two short months later on October 29 were devastating to residents of Morristown and Morris Township. After both storms, the Library staff rushed to assist those in need when we regained our power in the building. We provided disaster relief information in person and on our website, a comfortable place for the public to spend a few hours, Internet access, and a place to recharge cell phones and other electronic devices. Staff worked tirelessly to help all who came through our doors. The Children's Department quickly put together impromptu craft programs and a movie program to help parents keep their children occupied when school was cancelled. Our Media department screened a family-friendly new release film for adults and older children. The Reference Department worked to find answers for residents about their power and emergency shelters as well as providing Internet use assistance. Our Circulation Department issued many new library cards to residents who needed books and other materials to take home.

The Library staff was very happy to be of service to the public during these troubled times. Many positive compliments were delivered by grateful patrons. "I don't know what we would have done without you!" "Thank you so much for your help!" and "You guys are the best!" were heard over and over. While we do not wish to see such terrible weather again anytime soon, we are always pleased to be able to help Morristown and Morris Township residents with any problems which may arise in the lives of our patrons.

Chat from the Children's Room by Doris L. Meyer

Our fall story times were enjoyed by our young patrons and our staff. Some of the themes were bears, odd pets and Halloween. We will have craft/story times in January. This will be on a drop–in basis with no registration required. These sessions are for children from two to eight years of age. There are several times to choose from, including on one Saturday.

Our regular winter story times will resume in February and March. Registration is required for these. You may register in person, by phone or e–mail.

We have had several school visits from public and private schools. During these visits, pre–school children hear stories and do finger plays. First and second graders hear stories and obtain that all important first library card so they can charge out books immediately. Third and fourth graders learn to research subjects and titles on the computer. Then they scan the shelves to find the correct volumes.

Both our staff and patrons are busy learning our new computer program, which is called Polaris. Patrons can now look up a list of what they have read in the past.

Walking tours are planned. Library staff members will take school classes around the area to see historic sites such as the Nast house, St. Peter's church and Macculloch Hall.

We had a fall book club for fourth through sixth graders. They met once a month for three months. The books discussed were Operation Redwood, The Familiars and Masterpiece.

Despite the early snow storm, we managed to celebrate Halloween in our usual way. We gave out a thousand or more candies. Popular costumes were superheroes and princesses.

So when the wintry winds blow, come visit us to hear a story or read a book with your child. All three Library entrances are open now and ready to welcome you.

Just For Teens by Sandy Hall

The month of January is Shape UP Month, so in keeping with that theme, we will be running a weekly fitness program for teens in 6th–12th grade, starting January 9, 2012. Each week will feature a different workout, including Yoga, Pilates, Wii Fit games and Just Dance. So if you make a resolution to be more fit in 2012, come on down to the Library and bring your sneakers!

Some of the other highlights for teens in the winter and spring, include a Love Stinks Chocolatefest in February, a Hunger Games Event in March, a Teen Library Late Night in April and a Summer Volunteer Meeting in May. More information is available at the Children's Desk or in the Teen Nook at the Library.

If you are interested in volunteering at the Library before next summer, call or come in anytime and ask for Sandy. Alternatively, there is a teen volunteer application available on the teen section of the website under Teen Volunteers. Print it out, fill it out and return to the Children's Desk and we'll get back to you ASAP! Volunteering is a great way to get involved, fill community service hours and looks good for college applications.

Also in the upcoming months, we will be partnering with the library at Morristown High School to provide some activities right in the school. There will be a craft club meeting once a month after school and lunch time book club. Keep an eye out for more information and dates!

Even beyond these special events, each month there will be at least a craft (or two!) and a few how–to programs. Crafts will include paper bead making, pop–up cards and a Mother's Day craft. A variety of How–To programs will be offered, with things like How–To Make a Book Trailer and How–To Decorate Cake Pops. Most of these programs are offered for anyone in grades 6th through 12th or between the ages of 12 and 18, unless otherwise noted. As always, if you have any questions, feel free to call the Library or e–mail Sandy at sandy.the.librarian@gmail.com.

ON THE SHELF

What's New in Fiction

by Heidi Schwab

Deed of Murder by Cora Harrison
Brehon Mara utilizes her razor–sharp powers of deduction to expose a treasonous plot with tangled roots in the court of King Henry VIII of England. Intrigue, deception, and age–old feuds between neighboring kingdoms culminate in a suspensefully clever conclusion.

When the Devil Drives by Caro Peacock
London 1839; rumors spread about the devil's chariot, which preys on young women. Novice PI, Liberty Lane has no time for such horror stories, so when a young man begs her to find his missing fiancée, she accepts, suspecting there is a more simple explanation.

The Flight of Gemma Hardy
by Margot Livesey
Gemma Hardy takes a job as an au pair at the remote Blackbird Hall which belongs to rich and single, Mr. Sinclair. The unlikely pair is drawn to one another, but their courtship is cut short by Gemma's discovery of a secret that has shadowed her employer's life.

The Sandburg Connection
by Mark de Castrique
A missing folk song, a buried treasure from Civil War days, and a pregnant goat all play a part in this marvelous blend of history and mystery seasoned with information about Carl Sandburg's life and times on his Asheville farm and the National Park Service's current operations there.

New Jersey Noir by Joyce Carol Oates
The latest in the award–winning series of noir anthologies put out by Akashic Books. Featuring brand–new stories (and a few poems) by Joyce Carol Oates, Jonathan Safran Foer, Robert Pinsky, Edmund White, Michael Carroll and others.

NONFICTION

Spencer Tracy: A Biography
by James Curtis
A rich, vibrant portrait — the most intimate and telling yet of this complex man considered by many to be the actor's actor.

Paula Deen's Southern Cooking Bible: The New Classic Guide to Delicious Dishes with More Than 300 Recipes
by Paula Deen
The Food Network icon returns to her roots with the definitive--and delicious--guide to Southern cooking and hospitality.

Pauline Kael: A Life in the Dark
by Brian Kellow
A decade after her death, Kael remains the most important figure in film criticism today, in part due to her own inimitable style and power within the film community and in part due to the enormous influence she has exerted over an entire subsequent generation of film critics.

Drama: An Actor's Education
by John Lithgow
Emmy Award–winner John Lithgow presents a charming, witty, and revealing memoir about his family, his work, and his life in "Drama" — an intimate story of insights and inspirational reflections from one of America's most beloved actors.

Rin Tin Tin: The Life and the Legend
by Susan Orlean
At its heart, "Rin Tin Tin" is a poignant exploration of the enduring bond between humans and animals. But it is also a richly textured history of 21st Century entertainment and entrepreneurship and the changing role of dogs in the American family and society.

Large Print

by Heidi Schwab

The Affair: A Reacher Novel
by Lee Child
A novel of unrelenting suspense, The Affair is the start of the Reacher saga, a thriller that takes Reacher — and his readers — right to the edge . . . and beyond.

Lethal by Sandra Brown
Honor Gillette has to save herself and her four year old daughter from Lee Coburn, an accused mass murderer. He says he is a victim of circumstance, and his mission is to absolve himself of the crime and find something hidden in Honor's house.

The Christmas Wedding
by James Patterson and Richard DiLallo
Gaby Summerhill's children haven't celebrated Christmas together since their father's death, but when Gaby announces that she's getting married — and that the groom will remain a secret until the wedding day — she may finally be able to bring them home for the holidays.

Bonnie by Iris Johansen
Eve Duncans's seven year old daughter, Bonnie, vanished into thin air, putting Eve in the throes of a nightmare from which there is no escape.

The Wedding Quilt
by Jennifer Chiaverini
The wedding day of Sarah McLures's daughter, Caroline, approaches. As the Elm Creek Quilters work on her wedding quilt, they cherish memories of family, friendship, and love in all its varieties.

What's new in eBooks

by Sandy Hall

We are working on creating a core collection of Young Adult eBooks. Titles will include award winners such as Looking for Alaska and The Book Thief and new releases such as Matched and Miss Peregrine's Home for Peculiar Children. There will also be a wide range of popular authors like Sarah Dessen, Megan McCafferty and Libba Bray, just to name a few.
